To view textual material such as the editorial use the (+) and (*) keys to flip pages forward or backwards. Notice that the left and right arrows on these keys can be used as a mnemonic to remember the direction you're turning the page. Another helpful feature has been added to this issue. You may return directly to the table of contents by typing a "M" while viewing textual material. Now you don't have to go to the end of the article, before returning to the table of contents.

If you have any trouble running the magazine please let us know. We WILL do whatever is necessary to get you up and running. To serve you better Call (214)-328-8830 leaving your name and phone number, we will return your call at our earliest convenience.
